HOLLOWELL CASE SETTLEMENT NOT LEAST IN DOUBT

Authority For Compromise Came, But Not in Shape to be Made of Record.

Attorney J. G. Miller Goes to Evansville to See Clients.

NEXT MEETING AT PRINCETON.

"Easy there, let out a little more line. We nearly had him that time. My, he's a beauty and hard to land." Fishermen know that talk and the situation that excited it, and persons conversant with the Hollowell compromise case, know that it is as sure to end as exclusively forecasted in the Sun, as the fish is certain of being landed. The attorneys in the case had the compromise settled days ago, but technical details have delayed the "landing" of the money.

Attorney J. G. Miller received authority to accept the $15,000 settlement yesterday afternoon, from the Hollowells in Evansville, but Attorney Ward Headley did not like the way the authority was expressed. The letter from the Hollowells, in addition to conferring authority on Attorney Miller to close the deal, gave some other information, irrelevant to the case, and this made the letter unfit to be placed on record.

So Attorney Miller left for Evansville last night to get the kind of statement Mr. Headley wants, and Mr. Headley left for Princeton at noon today, where he will meet Attorney Miller this afternoon and "land" the compromise. Mr. Miller took the bull by the horns in going to Evansville, deciding not to "pay out any more line" by waiting on telegrams and letters. He will get express authority in legal form to accept the settlement agreement on the first of the week, and will doubtless return to the city tonight or in the morning, with the same certificate in his pocket that Mr. Headley left for Princeton at noon today.

Mr. Headley said this morning that this was the only thing that made a hitch in the settlement yesterday, and so far as he can foresee now, nothing will cause to head off the transfer of the money this evening. He made the same statement of the facts in the compromise this morning that he made yesterday morning to the reporter for The Sun. This was, that no understanding existed as to the amount to be paid by the 25 defendants, but that before he would turn over the money he wanted from the Hollowells a receipt for it in the shape of express authority for the deal.

That the Hollowells might change their minds and demand a larger settlement in the conference in Evansville today with Attorney Miller, does not seem probable to Mr. Headley.

In Honor of Guest.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Order of Railroad Conductors was delightfully entertained last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lewis, 1008 Tremble street, in honor of Mrs. L. R. Waltz. A geographical contest was the feature of the evening. J. Henry Lewis won first prize in the contest, a handsomely painted picture. The trophy prize was won by Mrs. Houlahan. Both the prize winners gave their trophies to Mrs. Waltz, for whom the party was given. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The color scheme of red, white and green was carried out very artistically. In the corner of the front room Mrs. J. S. Wesson served punch from a small booth, prettily decorated. On the table in the dining room was a large embroidered center-piece and a beautiful bunch of carnations in a vase. Cream and cake were served in the dining room. Those present were: Mrs. L. B. Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Will Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Mrs. Henry Harris and son, J. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wesson, Mrs. Frank Hogwood and Frank Hogwood, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leroy, Mr. Henry Mangle, Mr. Harry Williams, Miss Lily Storrie, Mrs. Houlahan, Master Harold Harrington and Mrs. A. E. Finney.

Mr. C. G. Kelly, secretary of the school board, is ill today at his home, 905 South Third street.

Another Fatal Street Duel Marks Bloody Political Fued of Central City—Two More Men Fall Victims

Chief of Police Wounded and Policeman, and Man Seeking His Place, are Shot to Death in Fight

Central City, Ky., May 29. (Special)—John Harmon, former chief, killed Charles Woodburn and seriously wounded Chief of Police Wooten, who in turn killed Harmon. The three men quarreled on the street. Wooten may not recover.

This shooting, which took place late last night, was the continuation of the tragic political events which caused the death of Councilman J. D. Wood and his brother, Tom Wood, April 23, and the wounding of John Magann and Will Johnson.

At the last election, J. D. Wood and others were elected to supercede a political regime, of which the people of Central City had grown tired. Magann, James Jenks and Walter Hardwick had been discharged from the police force, and Charles Johnson, the councilman's brother, had been put on the force. The three sought occasion to quarrel with Councilman Wood, and when his brother approached in the role of peace-maker, they murdered him after killing the councilman.

The three were arrested but were let out on bond.

John Harmon owns the Commercial hotel.

The men met at the station about where the assassination of Councilman Wood took place, and the shooting began.

BACK TO MATTEAWAN

Albany, N. Y., May 29.—Dr. Ferris, head of the state lunacy commission, said Harry Thaw will be returned to Matteawan. The commission supervises all hospitals and without its consent Thaw cannot be transferred. Dr. Ferris believes Thaw is insane and fears another outbreak. He will oppose his release from Matteawan.

Maid and Matrons.
Miss Hattie Young, 1247 Broadway, sponsor for the J. T. Walbert camp, Confederate Veterans, has named her maids and matron of honor to attend the reunion in Birmingham, Ala., in June. The maids of honor will be: Miss Mayme Haynam, librarian at the public library; Miss Sadie George, 433 South Fourth street, and Miss Emma Claybecker. Mrs. George Kohl will be matron of honor.

Miss Jane Ratcliffe, of Ingleside, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. Z. Holland, of Grahamville.

ANTI-BRYAN PRESS BUREAU FIGURES THAT PEERLESS ONE CANNOT WIN OUT

Has too Few Pledged to Nominate Him and Johnson is Growing Stronger.

Washington, May 29.—The anti-Bryan publicity bureau issued a statement that the Nebraska will be beaten at Denver. It gives Bryan only 610 possible votes, 82 short of the nomination. It says the trend is to Johnson, and he will be nominated if the instructed delegates go to the strongest man.

PRISONERS ESCAPE

Stuebenville, Ohio, May 29.—Fred Ely, one of the seven men who escaped jail last night, was recaptured. The others are still free. Two prisoners seized the sheriff while he was locking the cells and released the others. They stole $100.

Federation Social Function.
Opening the State Federation of Women's clubs meeting here next week, will be a notable reception on Tuesday evening by the Woman's club at the club building. The guests will include the federation visitors, the members of the six federated clubs.

Delphi, Magazine, Kalosopie, Alumni, Matinee Musical and Woman's club and the husbands of the members. The privilege of transferring the invitations is not extended.

On Wednesday at noon, between business sessions, an elaborate buffet luncheon will be served by the Delphi, Kalosopie and Magazine clubs, to the visitors and the members of the six federated clubs.

A bird in the hand catches no worms.

SNELL WILL BROKEN.

Clinton, Ill., May 29.—By a verdict, setting aside the will of Colonel Snell, Richard Snell, the son who was cut off, inherits half the estate, valued at $1,500,000, and the other half goes to the children of Thornton Snell. The jury was out six hours.

The verdict deprives Mabelle Snell of her $1,200 annuity. It is reported she will sue to get it. There is the greatest relief among the women, who wrote Snell, because no more names will come out.

LIVERPOOL GETS LAST HENDERSON POOLED TOBACCO

Henderson, Ky., May 29.—(Special.)—The last of the pooled crop of 1906, Henderson stemming district, 29,000 hogheads, was sold in Liverpool for $312,000, an average price of 12 1/4 to 13 cents.

FIRE MARSHAL

Mayfield, Ky., May 29.—(Special.)—Fire Marshal Nelkirk has been conducting a quiet investigation of the recent fire here, and left unostentatiously last night. He refused to say what he had discovered or what report he would make.

CHECKING CANINES

Almost all the license revenue received by the city now is for dog licenses. City Clerk Maurice McIntyre is kept in his office constantly issuing the licenses and supplying the dogs with tags. The patrolmen in the city have books and in their rounds over the city they take the names of every one owning a dog in the city. The city clerk checks over his list, and if the license has not been paid a visit of the dog catchers will follow. About 1500 licenses have been issued to date, exceeding last year's total record.

Miss Cave Honored.
Miss Mary Cave, daughter of the Rev. W. E. Cave, of the First Presbyterian church, has been elected one of the editors of the Peace College annual, Raleigh, N. C. She will return home next week Tuesday.

THE HANDS REFUSE TO WORK FOR CENT A TIE.

Towheats towing ties to Joppa are experiencing a little hard luck in getting their ties carried out of the barges. The tie carriers, who were being paid a cent and one-half from last fall to this spring for each tie they carried, have had their wages cut, and one cent is all they pay for one tie. The cut in wages caused the negro tie carriers to strike. These carriers make from $5 to $10 a day, but still they won't work for a cent a tie. There is no great demand for ties, as the railroads are not constructing new roads.

Place Committee Meeting.
Mrs. R. B. Phillips, chairman of the place of meeting committee of the Federation of Women's clubs, wishes all the committee to be at the Woman's club building Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Koegle, Miss Faith Langstaff and Dr. Della Caldwell.

The Matinee Musical club will give a musical to all the federated clubs Wednesday evening from 9 to 10 o'clock in the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church. The members of the Woman's club, the Delphi, the Magazine, the Kalosopie, the Alumni and Matinee clubs, members of their families and the delegates will be the guests. From 10 to 11 a reception will be held in the Woman's club building.

Mr. A. A. Mitchell, Sr., has returned to his home in Cadiz after a visit to his son, Mr. A. A. Mitchell, Jr., 219 North Sixth street.

CHEAP BUILDING MATERIAL MAKES PROSPECTS GOOD

While Cost of Labor Stays Up,
Price of Lumber Goes Down
This Year.

Property Owners Everywhere
Are Making Plans.

BROADWAY MAY SEE CHANGES.

Far-sighted investors in Paducah and all over the United States are preparing to take advantage of the unusual conditions in the building trade, due to a 20 cent average reduction in the cost of all construction materials, except labor.

Paducah architects report a brightening in the building outlook and say that a number of citizens who had planned to build within the next few years will borrow the money, if necessary, to build now, while they can effect a greater saving than at any time in the last eight years. Labor, it is true, is as high as ever, but while wages have not been reduced, a saving of at least 20 per cent can be made in this item, because builders now, while the demand is slack, have the pick of mechanics. In boom times indifferent workmen frequently must be employed.

Lumber on large contracts is 20 per cent cheaper than it was this time last year. In fact, a building in this city that cost $3,700 last spring can be duplicated for $4,700 this month. Iron is from 15 to 20 per cent cheaper and brick are 15 per cent lower than at this time last year. In every other material that goes into a building a reduction has occurred that makes the average cost of construction one-fifth less than 12 months ago.

On the new church to be built by the Tremble Street Methodist congregation at Fountain avenue and Monroe street, a saving of from $4,000 to $6,000 will be effected by building now. It was this fact that caused the congregation to hurry up their plans for a new church. Business men in the city, who have been here long enough to know the facts in the past, say that it would be necessary to go back ten years to find conditions parallel to the present building situation.

Had the ten-story skyscraper been contracted for last fall, it would have cost from $12,000 to $18,000 more than it could be built for today. In Chicago and other cities, property owners are borrowing money to make improvements now that they had expected to make several years hence. Money is easy at all the banks in the United States, if the right kind of collateral is forthcoming.

It is rumored reliably that Broadway in Paducah will see some new building this summer and fall that would not have been built but for the unprecedentedly low cost of construction.

FLYING MACHINE TEST

Paris, May 29.—Wilbur Wright, of Dayton, O., arrived to demonstrate to the French authorities the feasibility of Wright Brothers' flying machine. He will conduct experiments similar to those in North Carolina. If the tests are successful a French company will be formed to exploit the machine.

Cowardly Assault Made on County Attorney Krone by Man Indicted For Night Riding in Lyon County

Harvey Satterfield, Heavyweight Eddyville Policeman, Knocks Him Down Without Warning.

Kuttawa, Ky., May 29. (Special.)—A most cowardly assault was made on W. L. Krone, county attorney of Lyon county, by Harvey Satterfield, an Eddyville policeman, in Eddyville yesterday. Satterfield was indicted in Lyon and Crittenden counties for night riding.

Satterfield weighs 219 pounds and was heavily armed, while Mr. Krone was not anticipating an attack. Satterfield was pulled off Mr. Krone by soldiers and taken before Police Judge Rickner. A bond of $50 was immediately furnished by Satterfield, about 50 of his sympathizers appearing to go on his bond.

Ten more soldiers have been ordered to Eddyville, as the local officers seem not to be able or willing to keep order.

Mr. Krone, who lives in Kuttawa, was on his way to the court when he stopped to get some papers from the circuit court clerk at Wood's drug store. Satterfield had spoken to him a few minutes before, but when Krone stopped Satterfield rushed on him and struck him in the temple, knocking him down and partially stunning him. Then Satterfield proceeded to pummel the prostrate man, until a militia corporal pulled him off.

County Attorney Krone has been having a hard time doing his duty. All winter long until soldiers arrived, he stood guard over his home from 10 o'clock at night until nearly daylight, and the night riders and their sympathizers, besides doing everything in their power to embarrass him in the discharge of his duties, have threatened and attempted physical violence, depending on their ability to get a night rider jury to protect them.

May Talk Currency to Death.

Washington, May 29.—The vote on the currency bill and adjournment of congress may be postponed until next week. Senator Stone, of Missouri, and Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, promised to assist LaFollette, of Wisconsin, in talking the bill to death. LaFollette claims if one Democrat will stand with him he can defeat the measure.

LETTER IN BLOOD THREATENS DEATH ---IS IN POOR BOX

Chicago, May 29.—A letter written in blood, was put in the poor box of St. Mary's Catholic church. It threatens death to Father O'Callaghan, pastor, and to Attorney Francis Hinekey. It declares the church is to be dynamited. O'Callaghan and Hinekey are trying to obtain a pardon for Emil Hillek, who was condemned to hang for murdering six persons. This is the supposed cause of the threat.

MAY MOVE PLANT

The danger of damage to the city by an explosion of the oil tanks of the Standard Oil company and the fire that burned the lubricating house yesterday afternoon, may cause the company to seek another location. Mayor James P. Smith is in favor of having the company move to a location where the city is not so populous. The buildings were built in 1884 when that part of the city was not built up, but the houses crowd close to the lot now. A conference will be held by Mayor Smith with the city attorney, and investigate to see if the action of the council will be necessary to make the company secure a new site.

Fire Chief James Wood is out this afternoon investigating the danger of a fire at the Standard Oil company, Tenth and Monroe streets. He will report to the mayor on the advisability of the city compelling the company to seek another location. Even if the large tanks of oil and gasoline should not explode, in case of a fire there is danger of leakage, and the flames spreading to adjacent buildings by the burning oil.

Mrs. Grouse's Funeral.
The funeral of Mrs. Mary Fisher Grouse took place this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the St. Francis de Sales church, with burial in Oak Grove cemetery. The Rev. Father Jansen officiated. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Peter Puryear, Harry Fisher, Percy Paxton, Edwin J. Paxton, Jamie Paxton, John J. Dorlan, Patrick Lally and Edward D. Hannan.

DR. OVERTON BROOKS IS SURGEON AT CITY PARK.

Dr. Overton Brooks, of Chicago, has become chief surgeon in the emergency hospital of the Riverview Amusement park of that city, where from 50,000 to 100,000 persons gather every 24 hours to enjoy the concessions. Scarcely a day passes that Dr. Brooks does not have several accident cases among that number of people, and in addition to being a responsible position, it is desirable financially.

NEWT HAZELETTE, NIGHT RIDER, WAS SHOT BY PLANTER

Shelbyville, Ky., May 29. (Special.)—Walker Dineen and Hiley Harrod, well known Shelby county farmers, were indicted for killing Newton R. Hazelette, whose body was found on the road near Jacksonville last Friday. Dineen admitted the killing and took all the responsibility. He said he was expecting a raid by night riders and asked Harrod and another neighbor to assist in defending his property. He said he fired at Hazelette in self-defense. Both men were released on bail.

Japan Preparing.
Vancouver, B. C., May 29.—G. C. Druee, former mayor of Oxford, England, returning from the orient, says Japan is preparing to clash with all the powers. STREETS THIS MONTH.

Concrete sidewalks on the north side of Tennessee street from Second street to Tenth street have been laid, and in a few days Contractor George Satterjohn will have the sidewalks extended to Twelfth street. Then the workmen will begin laying the sidewalks on the south side of the street. It will be the middle of June before the work is ready for inspection.

All the stone curbing on Broadway between Ninth and Eleventh streets has been taken up by H. M. Weikel, the contractor. Much of the stone curbing may be used again. Excavations for the concrete sidewalks will begin in a few days.

AFTER HAY RIDERS.
Young Frankfort People Bombarded
for Several Miles.

Frankfort, Ky., May 2.—A party of young society people while taking a hay ride out the Versailles and Glen creek roads, in this county, were attacked by a gang of men, who followed them for several miles, throwing stones and clubs. Miss Gresham Payne, aged 17, was struck over the right eye with a stone, inflicting a serious injury. She suffered considerably and those in the party fear her skull may be fractured. Miss Marquette Frazier, aged 17, was struck in the back with a large missile and is badly hurt. Frank Williams was struck in the head, Arva Ray was hit on the hand and Dick Critcher and Arthur Golus were struck in the back, all being painfully injured. There were twenty-five or thirty members of the attacking party. The general opinion of the hay riding party is that they were mistaken for soldiers and were attacked by night riders. The stones were thrown at them at different places for three or four miles.

DISCIPLINE WILL BE UNCHANGED

Methodist Conference Takes Action to Indicate This.

Amusement Paragraph Under Consideration of Committee Will Not Be Discussed.

OLD BISHOPS ARE ASSIGNED.

Baltimore, May 29.—Adverse action by the Methodist Episcopal general conference on an apparently unimportant motion, is said to have back of it the determination on the part of a large number of delegates to bury the whole question of whether or not paragraph 258 of the book of discipline which deals with amusement shall be changed.

The motion was that a time should be set for consideration of the report of the committee that has had the question under consideration. The motion was lost by a decisive vote. It is said that there is a determined purpose not to permit amusements to be discussed on the floor of the conference at all if it is possible to prevent it.

There was a strong sentiment against any change in paragraph 258 which will simply remain in force as it now stands if the matter can be kept from the conference during its remaining business session.

The assignment of bishops to various Episcopal residencies was reported to the committee on Episcopacy by a special committee of 19 and adopted by the full committee.

COUNTY ATTORNEY

WILL HAVE PROGRAM FOR THE MEETING THIS SUMMER.

Allen Barkley Calls Executive Committee to Meet At Lexington June 11.

County Attorney Allen Barkley, president of the Kentucky County Attorneys' association, has called a meeting of the executive committee on June 11 in Lexington for the purpose of selecting the date and place of holding the annual meeting this year. The program will be arranged for the meeting, and will be published so that the members may begin work on their papers. The meeting last year was held in Bowling Green, but there are several cities that will be considered this year as a meeting place. It is probable that the meeting will be held in July.

The Rev. J. W. Irion, who so ably assisted Rev. H. B. Terry for ten days in a revival at Third Street Methodist church, returned to his home at Dresden, Tenn., Thursday.

The meetings continue with renewed interest. There was one profession at 3 p. m. and good attendance and interest last night. Mr. William T. Robbins, of Fort Smith, Ark., a lay evangelist, who has joined this church, will preach at 3 p. m. and at 7:45 p. m.

His sermons yesterday and last night were very enthusiastic.

ENGINE'S SPARKS

Standard Oil Blaze in Heart of Paducah Last Evening.

Only Good Work of Firemen and Fire Department Prevents Serious Conflagration.

SOME INCIDENTS OF AFFAIR

Sparks from a passing locomotive of the Illinois Central are supposed to have set fire to the lubricating house of the Standard Oil company, Tenth and Monroe streets, yesterday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock. The loss of the building probably will amount to $500, and the loss will be about $2,000 on the barrels of lubricating oil that were charred, but the company carries its own insurance. One "Riley," a registered building, was burned also.

The lubricating room was a one-story structure with a tin roof and was in an "L" shape, part of it extending along the railroad tracks. In the room were about 100 barrels of oil, but by the fine work of the fire department only the barrels were charred. Mr. J. W. Tyler passed near the building five minutes before the blaze was discovered, and he did not see any fire. When discovered the blaze was in all parts of the building and a telephone message was given to the fire department. Companies Nos. 1, 2 and 3 answered the alarm and began work of checking the fire. A teamster as soon as the fire was discovered released two horses and the dog and drove them from the burning stable, but the animals would return. He grabbed one horse and kept him from returning. Luckily all the horses but two were in use at the time.

Saved the Office.
The office of the company is in a brick building on Monroe street, but the firemen cut off the blaze in this direction and held it in the oil room. The safe in the office was locked, and all the books and records of the company were ready to be removed from the office if it became necessary. In the yard were five large tanks containing many thousands of gallons of oil and gasoline. As soon as the fire was discovered Manager Tyler had the safety valves opened and the danger was eliminated.

Around the oil company are many buildings, and had the fire gotten a better start the loss would have been heavy. The Fooks-Acree Lumber company is across the street, but no sparks were flying. The Anheuser-Busch Brewing company agency is across the alley, and the Paducah Brewing company is across the corner. The wind came from the west and blew the flames towards the railroad tracks, where there was no chance of its spreading.

Firemen Do Good Work.
Nothing but unstinted praise was given the firemen and Chief Wood for their handling of the fire. Manager Tyler said he had seen many oil fires, but the blaze was handled the best he had ever seen one. Chief Wood modestly said that the blaze was nothing but a play toy for his firemen, but said the firemen did good work in preventing a spread of the flames.

This morning Mr. Tyler said it was almost impossible to give an accurate estimate of the loss. The oil is leaking from the barrels today, and a majority of it will be lost at a loss of about $2,000. The building can be rebuilt for $500, but he said the company would probably put up an improved building. Instructions have been received from Louisville to continue with the business, and the manager will come here as soon as possible to look over the situation.

"Riley," the fine dog of Mr. Tyler, was burned and he regrets the loss of his pet. He was valued at several hundred dollars. The bay horse that was burned was valued at $200.

Some Incidents.
While the No. 4 company was answering the alarm an unknown woman was in a buggy at Ninth street and Broadway. Frightened by the going, the horse began backing, and she jumped out clasp her baby at the same time. As she was between the wheels the horse began backing and had the buggy in the middle of the street when men went to her assistance. Driver John McEadden, of the truck, made a swerve to the side of the street and did not hit the buggy or turn over the truck.

Ernest Richardson, a colored boy, was delivering shoes for the Cochran Shoe company and in order to see the fire well, he placed three pairs of shoes on the ground and was gazing at the fire when some slick thief picked up the shoes and skipped out. Richardson reported the theft to Paducah Dick Wood, but no one saw the thief that got the shoes.

Four streams of water were thrown on the fire, the No. 2 company laying two lines and the Central company and the No. 4 company laying one each. The fire was out in a half hour.

BURNS BUGGY

CLARENCE ELLIOTTHORPE THROWS MATCH INTO BAILED HAY.

Fire Department Called Out When Blaze Got Beyond Its Own Control.

A fire in the buggy of Clarence Elliotthorpe, 218 South Tenth street, burned the top off of the vehicle and damaged the buggy to the extent of $10. Elliotthorpe had some baled hay in the buggy last night, and went out to the stable. He struck a match to see a loose shoe on his horse, when part of the burning match slipped into the hay. Elliotthorpe clasped his hands on the fire but it spread too rapidly. He quickly pulled the buggy out of the stable and called the No. 4 fire station which is across the street. With the chemical engine the blaze was put out in a few minutes. Companies Nos. 2 and 4 answered the alarm.

PIERCE STORMS IN TWO STATES

Chicago and Quincy, Ill., Report Highest Winds.

Several Lives Lost and Many Persons Injured—Southern Iowa Suffered.

TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH.

Chicago, May 29.—A gale of wind reached a greater velocity than has been recorded in Chicago for seven years, last night preceded an electrical storm which did considerable damage in parts of the city. Several persons were injured by debris blown from buildings by the gale and a church and half a score of other buildings were struck by lightning.

The storm was the culmination of a day of atmospheric disturbances which began with daylight and continued intermittently until nearly midnight.

The high wind, which reached a velocity of 68 miles an hour, stripped the telegraph and telephone wires throughout the city. For a short time the city was almost cut off from communication with the outside world.

Ruses Wrecked.

Quincy, Ill., May 29.—A wind storm swept over Quincy doing much damage. Houses running from the country club were dashed to pieces. E. L. Walcott and wife were taken from the wreck of one bus severely hurt. Dr. Thomas D. Gardner was also hurt.

The principal buildings at Wonderland park were blown away. George Wrenner was killed by lightning during the storm. The country south of Quincy was swept by a tornado and 50 dwellings and outbuildings were demolished. No one is reported killed in the country region.

In Iowa.

Hurlington, Iowa, May 29.—A severe wind and rain storm struck southeastern Iowa. Reports of much damage are coming in. Farms were wrecked, outbuildings leveled and several persons killed or injured. Telephone and electric light wires are demolished. The Burlington railroad line south of here is blocked by land slides.

Club Teams May Play.

It is probable that the Chess, Checker and Whist club will have a baseball team to play the team of the Elks, which will play the Elks' team from Marion, Ill., Sunday, June 7, at League park. Among the checker pushers there are several good ball tossers, and there is little doubt but what the team will be organized. The game may be played in June or July 1, and the proceeds from the contest go to some charitable institution.

Emma Confessed.

Emma Ruff, a colored servant at the home of Mrs. Belle Chid, 635 Broadway, was accused of stealing the pocketbook of Mrs. Curd yesterday and late yesterday afternoon was taken to the city hall by Patrolman Henry Singery. Patrolman Singery "sweated" her, and she confessed and told where the money was hid, but said another negro stole the coin. After the money was found in the stable Emma was released by the police.

Dog Frightens School.

A vicious dog excited the pupils of the Franklin building yesterday and for a short time had the whole playground to himself. H. P. Barksdale, an engineer for the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, heard the screams and secured his shotgun and killed the dog the first shot.

HEARST

MAKES GAINS, IF CONTINUED, THAT WILL ELECT HIM.

Twenty-Seven in Two Precincts of the 1010 to Be Investigated—The Vote.

New York, May 29.—The method recounting of the ballots cast for W. R. Hearst and George B. McClellan for mayor in the last election for that office in this city in November, 1905, was begun after a delay of more than two years.

The contents of two ballot boxes were counted in the presence of a Justice of the supreme court and resulted in a net gain by W. R. Hearst of twenty-seven votes in the two precincts the votes of which were counted. There are 1940 precincts in the greater city. Mayor McClellan's plurality over Mr. Hearst in the original count was 3,178.

The votes in one of the boxes counted, which showed a net gain of fifteen votes for Mr. Hearst had been subject of complaint before the grand jury. A Socialist watcher at the polls alleged that the vote for Hearst and McClellan had been transposed.

On the original count, McClellan had 165 and Hearst 159 votes. On recount Hearst had 167 votes and McClellan 156 in this box.

Justice Lambert, before whom the recount is being made, said at the close of the day's session that from now on the count would proceed more rapidly. Counsel for Mr. Hearst said he believed the recount would be completed within six weeks.

Daily Thought.

"A good life is impossible until one knows that there is ever something more desirable than living."

Hetty Green is a real woman.

The Shell case should be called "Small" case.

If property owners will kill the cat expellers now, while they are in wet and before the eggs hatch, the serious damage to trees and shrubbery of former years will be avoided.

Turning from his arraignment of the administration for an alleged mismanagement of colored soldiers in the Brownsville affair to supporting Roosevelt for another term as president, gives Senator J. B. Foraker the appearance of a man writhing in his political death struggle.

POLITICS, POLITICS, POLITICS!

Newspapers and partisans so often approach a subject in an unpolitical fashion. Political advantage in the hope of winning, without regard to the comparative benefits to the country of this policy or that policy are all in all to such small fry. For instance, a contemporary solemnly remarks:

"The last two days of congress are at hand and it must be evident to the most casual observer that very few of those things for which the president has contended have become laws. No provision has been made for maintaining the waterways commission.
Congress has taken no step looking to the conservation of our natural resources. Nothing has been done to carry out the Roosevelt suggestion that the government retain the ownership of the mineral resources of the public lands. The Roosevelt contention for a graduated income tax and the other proposition emanating from the white house designed to check the concentration of wealth into a few hands have made no impression upon congress.

"Even the anti-injunction bill has been put to sleep and it is by no means certain that the Hepburn bill modifying the Sherman anti-trust act will be passed.

"All hope of currency legislation has been abandoned. The president's demands for naval expenditures have also been turned down. The net result of the presidential agitation from the stump and the frequent bombardment of the capital with executive messages in the passage of an unsatisfactory bill re-enacting the employers' liability law, declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, and the bill regulating child labor in the District of Columbia.

"This would be a significant and interesting situation at any time and it is particularly so at the beginning of a presidential campaign. The president has triumphed through the power of federal patronage in the contest for control of the national convention, but his enemies are entrenched and fortified in the legislative branch of the government. At the end of the session of congress and the beginning of the presidential campaign the Republican party is more than ever divided against itself.

"All of which conditions but go to for party success and national good, which requires only party unity and harmony to make a certainty."

Now we should like to know: Does prove that the Democrats of the nation are now facing an opportunity our contemporary believe in maintaining the waterways, in the conservation of natural resources, government control of mineral resources and public lands, the graduated income tax, a check on the concentration of wealth by predatory means, the modification of the injunction in labor troubles,
the amendment of the anti-trust law to make it effective and equitable, currency legislation, a better navy, employer's liability reform, child labor restrictions and the publicity of campaign contributions?

Those are admitted by our contemporary to be Roosevelt policies; it is repeatedly accused of being a Roosevelt man and heir apparent to his policies. If our contemporary believes in these things, then it must indorse Roosevelt's administrative efforts, and approve a man acceptable to President Roosevelt as best fitted to carry out those policies.

Who cares whether it is called Democratic or Republican, so it is right?

THE NIGHT RIDER'S PORTION.

The pardoning of Mrs. Mary Hollowell, who is indicted in Caldwell county for the alleged slaying of the plum bed of her brother-in-law, John E. Hollowell, should indicate to the night riders, what they may expect-- the worst of it.

Compared with the verdict of $35,000 in Robert Hollowell's case and the $75,000 suits pending in the federal court, $15,000 is small, but a few more such verdicts will make the assessments of the night rider organization oppressively high and numerous.

The assassination of Vaughan Bennett, the mysterious murder of Newton Hazlett in Shelby county, and the death of the boy returning from the Hopkinsville raid, should carry a lesson to the heart of every member of the band. A night rider is fair game for any gun, and the man who kills one on a raid is no more subject to punishment than if he had killed a vicious dog. Lots of eyewitnesses to the murder of Vaughan Bennett are known, but none of them dares appear in court because he wore a mask and scarf. Just as many could be summoned to tell about the Hazlett killing, but they will not answer to their names.

Think of the funeral of that Tricune county youth. Masked men deposited his body at his father's door and never told how he died. People are learning how to deal with night riders and it is growing more and more dangerous to attempt outrages against the persons and property of citizens of Kentucky. Only one now and then a killed, it is true; but who knows who the next one will be? It may be the son or husband or brother or father of some night rider sympathizing woman.
Think of him lying dead beside the road, deserted by his lawless companions, who, knowing his assassin, dare not prosecute him; and the death must go unavenged unless the code of the mountain feudist is adopted. Then, indeed, will night rider blood baptize Kentucky's soil.

Why a man, who owns property,
title to which and the right to quietly enjoy which, are guaranteed by the law, should defy the civil authority for the protection of which he pays taxes, and bind himself by oath to oppose the law, is beyond the comprehension of a reasoning being.

If the law prevails, he will be brought to justice; if it does not his property rights are in jeopardy. Even the night rider lawyers, who make incendiary speeches inciting planters to disorder, cannot refute this logic.

GENERAL STEPHEN D. LEE.

Another great Civil War figure has passed away by the death of General Stephen D. Lee, last of the brilliant array of Confederate lieutenant generals. Like most of the other leaders of the Lost Cause, General Lee was educated at West Point for the United States service, but when the breach came, he cast his lot with his native state. Since the war he had been continuously in the public service and was conspicuously honored by Mississippi. Only memory soon will hold dear the heroism of that day, and the courage displayed by men on both sides in that terrible war should be an inspiration to the whole nation, rather than a source of bitterness.

A WARNING.

We have had our warning. That blaze in the Standard Oil property, couched as it was this time, may save the city thousands and thousands of dollars, if the warning is heeded. Perhaps, no other community would have suffered the presence of such a menace in the heart of the city as long as Paducah has. The location of the tanks along the railroad, in constant danger of ignition from engine sparks, adds to the menace. The whole city should not be subjected to danger merely for the convenience of the Standard Oil company. Those tanks should be removed outside the city limits.

WITH THE FUNNY MAN.

"I wouldn't cry like that if I were you," said a lady to little Alce.

"Well," said Alce, between her tears, "you can cry any way you like, but this is my way."—The United Presbyterian.

She (making up)—"And you will admit you were wrong?" He (a young lawyer)—"No, but I'll admit that an unintentional error might have crept into my assertion."—

THE VANISHING FLEETS

By ROY NORTON

ILLUSTRATED BY A. WEIL

He sat wearily down on a pile of ties, and the brakeman, still watchful, stood in front until the long train dragged past, then reached out a grimy hand, swung lightly onto the steps of the caboose, and shook his fist at the supposed Chinaman as he disappeared. A tramp of the most degraded sort approached him and with the comradery of the homeless dropped

Clambered Through the Side Door of an Empty.

into conversation with him. Food and rum made him an ally, and, finding an easy source of assistance without effort, the tramp avowed that he, too, was bound for Chicago.

Under this expert tutelage the Japanese reached the metropolis of the west, where he made his friend good-bye and sought the Chinese to whom he had lent. Again he faced a reverse; for these men with one accord told him there was no possibility of evading the sentries to the north, and that his only means of escape must of necessity be in the far northwest. Sympathizers first, but traffickers always, they melted him of his money, and in return made it possible for him to travel to Seattle.
They bought a ticket, provided him with a Chinese certificate of entry whose pictured owner was sufficiently close in resemblance, and saw him off on his journey.

Time and again in that long trip he was dragged out and compelled to show his papers, proving that he was always a suspect. Once a threat was made to hold him over; but his persuasive tongue secured immunity from arrest.

In constant terror until his nerves became shreds to torment him, at last by night and day, he traversed the continent, and at last entered the gateway of his countrymen had resided prior to the outbreak of hostilities, but where now he might claim neither friends nor sympathizers. Here indeed was a No Man's Land where none extended a welcome. From then on he must depend entirely on his own resources, and he understood perfectly well that he was nearing a hard finish of a long race. He lost no time in making a start.

Under the pretext of going to a camp where he was to cook he induced a launch that was starting out toward the mouth of Puget sound to take him aboard as a passenger and land him at its journey's end a short distance from Port Townsend. He was dropped off late in the evening at a tiny landing, and later saw the little boat speed back toward Seattle.
He was without food save such as had been given him, and tightened the belt beneath his Chinese garb in anteicipation of a hard trip. Unused to the rougher life, he made painful progress, and nothing saved his desperation enabled him to traverse the primitive strip between him and the city. Footsore and dependent, he foraged doggedly ahead; until at last his sheer will power alone he gained the outskirts of the port. Its wooden wharf was deserted, and many of the houses were closed and vacant, the fear of Japanese shells and government weakness having driven the more prosperous inhabitants away.

Thoroughly worn out, he waited until night fell, then crawled into a confined and slept as only the worn and weary can sleep. He rose refreshed and jubilant because he had gained thus far without accident, hunger being his only immediate discomfort. From his depleted store cloth he extracted the smallest coin, bent on seeking food before the city was awake. He made his way down the hillside to the business section without attracting attention, had entered the doorway of a grocery store, where a sleepy-looking youth was sweeping away the previous day's waste. In broken English he made known his wants, and then, finding the salesman apparently friendly and stupid, lost some of his native caution and began to ask questions regarding the watch kept along the frontier. At his first query the boy looked at him slyly; but after a moment's hesitation fell in and answered everything readily, assuring him, however, that it would be difficult for any living thing to get past the soldiers who kept watch and ward over the boundary line.

Elated by the apparent ease with which he had secured provisions, he again retreated toward the edge of the city, mentally formulating plans for stealing a boat when night came, and by this means to make his way to Vancouver, where he would be on British soil. Had he looked back he would have seen that the boy, broom in hand, watched him with an assumption of mere idle interest; for a moment only, then hurriedly threw off his apron, banged the door shut and ran as fast as his legs would carry him to a big building farther down the street. It was where the officials of the port held forth. The alarm had been given!

Selgo rested in a thicket at the edge of a forest and partook of a leisurely breakfast, laughing meanwhile at the dullness of the Americans and the boy in particular. He regretted the loss of his handkerchief, which he feared must have been dropped in the grocery store, but smiled at the thought of being within so few miles of a refuge where others might be bought and where he could find ease and comfort.

From back of him a deep bellowing sound came faintly through the trees, and he wondered what the unusual noise could be. He rose to his feet, still holding a remnant of food in his hand, and waited for a repetition of the noise, which, borne on the breeze, was heard more sharply. Only once before had he ever known that same sullen bay, and then it was when as a visitor in a southern village he had seen a pack of hounds followed by excited men pass him in quest of a negro criminal. His memory harked back to that time, and his hair raised itself in terror. He threw away his food and dashed madly into the woods, seeking to escape that menacing undertone which his consciousness told him could have but one quarry. He knew in an instant that the boy had betrayed him, and that he, Count Selgo, a nobleman of Japan and descendant of the Samurai, was being hunted by dogs like a wild beast of the woods.

SOUTHERN CHURCHES WORK

Kansas City, May 23.—Church government, temperance and marriage and divorce were the important subjects before the general assembly of the Presbyterian church.

It was the most important action of the session was the adoption of the resolution which makes it impossible for any paid agent or member of the church bonds or permanent officer of the general assembly except the moderator, to serve on executive committees ruling the body of the administrative affairs of the church.
The creation of an executive commission is the direct result of the ever recurring cry that certain men in the church were acquiring too much power. The action means that all church boards will report to the executive commission of fifteen members, when it has been selected, and that the government of the church will devolve on men who have not heretofore served in executive capacity.

The church reaffirmed its position that divorce should be granted only upon biblical grounds. The assembly approved the efforts of the international conference on influencing public opinion to overcome the evils that threaten the sanctity of the marriage relation, the integrity of the family and the welfare of the state.

The assembly voted an appropriation of $5,000 to continue the work of the temperance committee and advised a resolution declaring that no revenues derived from the liquor business should be used for popular government enacting on congress to "protect" the states that have abolished the traffic.

The Pittsburg Conference.

Pittsburg, May 23.—Owing to not being provided with traveling expenses and in the absence of instruction as to its duty the committee appointed to bring about closer relations with the Presbyterian church reported to the United Presbyterian general assembly that nothing tag-ible had been accomplished.

One of the features of the second day's session of the conference was a prayer made by the Rev. Dr. C. T.
McCaughan, of Iowa, the oldest living United Presbyterian minister.

Evangelistic Preaching.

Greensboro, N. C., May 23.—At the southern Presbyterian assembly the following resolution was presented by Dr. A. A. Little:

"Whereas, we believe that the great need of our church is more evangelistic preaching on the part of our pastors and a more diligent effort on the part of the church to reach the unchurched and unevangelized of this spirit of prayer for the salvation of souls and to use more evangelistic effort in the pulpit and out of it, to bring souls into the kingdom of God."

Communion service was held at 11 o'clock, after which the session on evangelistic work was taken up for consideration.

Discussing the resolution on evangelization, Dr. Little briefly urged new zeal for the salvation of souls.

Dr. A. A. McGee spoke of the danger to the minister of thinking his mission to be to preach sermons rather than to save souls. He said the impression had gone forth that this assembly was paying more attention to trivial things than to the vital thing of soul salvation, and he feared the impression had some foundation.

Dr. W. M. Anderson spoke of the importance, joy and value of systematic habits in watching for souls.

Dr. George F. Robertson had felt a sense of shame that the proceedings of several assemblies had been taken up with constitutional questions, etc.

The resolution offered by Dr. Little was adopted.

Report on Missions.

The first business was the report of the standing committee on foreign missions, which was discussed and adopted. The report took an encouraging view of the general outlook and reviewed the several missionary fields. The laymen's movement was endorsed and a vote of thanks extended Mr. White and Mr.
Ellis, of this movement, who addressed the men's convention here just prior to the meeting of the assembly. An overtone requesting a woman secretary for the women's missionary work was answered in the negative. Upon the recommendation of the committee the foreign missions executive committee was re-elected for three years as follows: Dr. J. P.
Cannon, Dr. E. D. McDougall, Elders
G. H. Haskette, J. D. Hanton and J.
H. Wilkes. The co-ordinate secretaries, the Rev. Dr. S. H. Chester and the Rev. J. C. Benvis, were also re-elected for a term of three years.

The report on theological seminaries was presented by Dr. A. A.
Little, and was adopted.

The Rev. Lyrlus L. Walker presented the report on the assembly's home and school at Fredericksburg, Va. Considerable interest was shown and a number of strong speeches were made in its favor. The report which was adopted, calls for an effort to raise $25,000 a year for the support of the institution.

LAST SCHOOL DAY AND USUAL SCENE

Books, Pencils, Ink and Rulers
All Going Home.

Seniors Take Farewell of School and Dress for Occasion—The Last Year.

COLORED SCHOOLS ORATOR

Books were packed today and ink bottles thrown away by the school children, because this was the last day of regular school. Examinations will begin Monday and continue through Wednesday for those who have been so unfortunate as to not be excused from the "zams." Friday the children will return for their cards and then vacation—three months full of romp and play. Most of the rooms had closing exercises today, while in the High school at opening exercise Miss Allie Bagby played several selections on the violin.

In the eighth grade the classes of Miss Kate White and Miss Mary Hinzton had a social meeting with a discussion of current events. A program of music and the rooms of Miss Elizabeth Daugherty and Miss Graham had a regular program. The programs were printed by Wayne Palmer, a pupil. The program was: Black Face Comedians—Wayne Palmer, V. Speck and C. Herman. Recitation, "The Theater Party"—Miss Graham. Dialogue—F. White and Miss Thornhill.

The Schools.
In speaking of the success of the schools for the past year, Superintendent J. A. Carnegie said while he has not the records ready, he feels that the season has been satisfactory. Practically nothing has interfered with the schools and harmony has reigned between teacher and pupils. This year the enrollment is 3,891, and in 1904 it was 3,118. Only four cases of suspension have been had in which the pupil was not reinstated, while in 1901 there was 32 pupils that did not return after suspension. The health of the teachers and pupils has been unusually good, and the measles, mumps and other ills did not interfere to any degree with the attendance. Next year better success is looked for, as Professor Carnegie explained he would know better at the beginning to start the schools and to keep them in rein.

Improvements.
During the summer extensive improvements will be made to all of the buildings by Fred Hoyer. A new floor will be placed in the Jefferson building, and new steps placed in the Garfield building extra stairs will be built so that the building may be emptied quickly in case of a fire. Such jobs as painting will be looked after, and the buildings will be like new next September. The school board's business are limited, but the money will be used judiciously.

On their last day in old High the senior girls were all dressed in white this morning and each sweet girl graduate wore a band of olive green and gold ribbon on her left arm. The seniors will not have school next week, but all the time will be used for rehearsing.

JULIA WAED HOWE FAMOUS AUTHOR

Hoston, May 29.—Mrs. Julia Ward Howe is 89 years old and her birthday was very pleasantly remembered by greetings and flowers from all parts of the country. She spent the day quietly with her family at her home on Beacon street. It being desired, owing to her advanced years, to spare her all unnecessary fatigue, although appreciating the many kind greetings and messages, she received only a few intimate friends outside the family circle.

Mrs. Howe is in good health considering her age, and looked forward with great interest to the fortieth anniversary of the New England Woman's club, of which she is president. The anniversary exercises were held in the South Congregational church, and Mrs. Howe was able to be present for a brief time.

Always a woman of singularly broad interests, Mrs. Howe was one of the striking figures of the half-century that culminated in the civil war. She attained distinction in the fields of literature, politics and philanthropy, and her exalted patriotism furnished the northern soldiers with the famous "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

She was born in New York City. From her mother, Julia Rush Ward, she inherited an uncommonly brilliant mind and a taste for letters, and upon her marriage to Dr. Samuel Gridley Howe, the philanthropist, in 1813 she began conducting with him the Boston Commonwealth. The policy of this paper was strongly anti-slavery and it continued to mold public sentiment until the conclusion of the war had disposed of that issue. Mrs. Howe then transferred her attention to other public questions, devoting her gifts to promoting prison reform, the cause of universal peace and universal suffrage.

For almost fifty years she has been before the public as a writer and lecturer on social matters and during the period of the early '90s she frequently appeared in Unitarian pulpits. Her best known literary work is undoubtedly "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," which was written in 1861 while she was visiting the camps near Washington. This poem was printed first in the Atlantic Monthly. Among her other writings are "Passion Flowers," "Words for the Hour," "A Life of Margaret Fuller" and her fascinating "Reminiscences."

Visits Union Camps.
The writing of the famous hymn followed a visit to the union lines made with the intention of witnessing a review. As it chanced a portion of the rebel forces attacked unexpectedly and Mrs. Howe was soon the center of a miniature battle. On the way back those of her party began singing war songs to cheer the soldiers and she conceived the idea of writing fresh words to be sung with the tune of "John Brown." The actual words were arranged in their final form the next morning while Mrs. Howe lay in bed in a darkened room beside her infant children.

The hymn, which is now known to millions, runs:

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord;
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored;

I have seen Him in the watch fires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded him an altar in the evening dews and damps;
I have read his righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps;
His day is marching on.

I have read a fiery gospel writ in burnished rows of steel;
"As ye deal with any one, with you, with your grace shall deal;
Let the hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel, Since God is marching on."

He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sitting out the hearts of men before His judgment seat.
Oh, be swift, my soul, to answer Him; be jubilant, my feet!
Our God is marching on.

In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in his bosom that transfigured you and me;
As He died to make men holy, let us die to make men free, While God is marching on.

Fadlist Visitor.—"Are you allowed in this prison any exercise beneficial for your health?" Conviict—"Oh, yes, ma'am. My advice of counsel I have been skipping the rope."

MOURNING STAMPS

WILL BE ISSUED BY ENGLISH AUTHORITIES SOON.They Will Prove More Popular Than the Mourning Border Envelopes Now Used.

Sydney Huxton, the British Postmaster General, in opening an exhibition of postage stamps held under the auspices of the Junior Philatelic Society, at Caxton Hall, said that, owing to a suggestion he had received, would shortly make an issue of mourning stamps which he thought would be more popular than the black-bordered or mourning envelopes now in use, says London letter to the New York Times.

Mr. Huxton, besides being a practical administrator of mails, showed that he had also considerable philatelic knowledge. "The fascination of stamp-collecting," he said, "lies in the rare finds which are continually made and the curious points which sometimes make a stamp worth hundreds of pounds. For instance, the four-cent blue Mauritius stamp which the Prince of Wales bought at a public auction recently for $2,250 was unique in one respect. The proper wording on it, 'Post Paid Mauritius,' had, by a strange error been altered to 'Post Office Mauritius.'"

"Another stamp which has been priced at several hundred dollars is valuable for the mere misspelling of one single word. It is a British Guiana issue, worth just one cent, but is sought after by all collectors because the word 'Potomacque' figures on it instead of 'Potomac'. Again, a cent Cape of Good Hope stamp changed hands the other day for nearly $1,000, simply because, instead of being red, as are all the others of this issue, its color was blue."

"Some years ago, in West Australia, a few stamps were printed with the figure of a swan upside down upon them. When the mistake was detected the issue was hastily destroyed. However, several specimens escaped and one of them has been sold for $2,000."

A Cold Lunch.

The pupils of a distinguished professor of zoology, a man well-known for his eccentricities, noted one day two tiny parcels lying on their instructor's desk as they passed out at the noon hour. On their return to the laboratory for the afternoon lecture, they saw but one. This the professor took carefully up in his hand as he opened his lecture.

"In the study of vertebrata we have taken the frog as a type. Let us now examine the gastrocnemius muscle of this dissected specimen." So saying, the professor untied the string of his next parcel and disclosed to view a ham sandwich and a bottled egg.

"But I have eaten my lunch," said the learned man bewilderedly.—June Lippincott's.

Once Was Enough.

The affable Capt. Dunge, of the Oscar, was communicating with a senile passenger.

"Senselessness, sir," said the Captain, "is a very nasty thing. Some people's sufferings, though, are far more atrocious than yours. I once carried a Philadelphia who suffered dreadfully."

"At the height of his senselessness this poor Philadelphia beckoned his wife to his bedside and said in a weak voice:

"Jenny, my will is in the Commercial Trust Company's care. Everything is left to you, dear. My various stocks you will find in my safe deposit box."

"The man paused and sighed. Then he said, fervently:

"And, Jenny, bury me on the other side. I can't stand this trip again, alive or dead."—Dundee Advertiser.

A Family Tree of His Own.

"Young man," said the farmer, "I must say you've done a heap o' talkin' about yer family tree. Anybody would think you owned a whole timber yard. Come out into the lane a minute."

The youth in golf clothes accompanied him.

Panning by a weeping willow, the farmer said: "I want you to take particular notice of this."

"What for?"

"That's our family tree. That's what has heightened our ideals and stimulated our energies. That has furnished switches for four or five generations of us."—Tit-Bits.

Three New Smiths.

Three fashionable churches in a certain city—St. John's, St. Thomas's, and St. Margaret's—have each Smith. This might make a little confusion, were it not for an ingenious method which has been adopted for designating them.

Colloquially, and for the sake of differentiation, the eminent divine in charge of St. John's is known as "Johnny" Smith, the rector of the church of St. Thomas is called "Tommy" Smith, and he of St. Margaret's goes by the name of "Maggie" Smith. "Johnny" Smith, the rector of the Smith do not particularly delight in the irrelevant designations thus applied to them. It is said; but "Maggie" Smith vehemently objects. And, it must be owned, no wonder.—June Lippincott's.

Mary Ray, Lost Eight Months is Found on a Shanty Boat.

The following Hickman dispatch tells the details of the Sun's story about the finding of Mary Ray:

"Will Fleming, it is alleged, stole her one night last August from her home in Decatur, Ill., and, she says, forced her to get a skirt and go off with him. She was only 13 years old."

No news was heard of her, and her father, who owned a home, wagon and team, and had a good living, gave up his work and mortgaged his team and home to get money to go in search of his daughter. He had been searching for her since then, until he had spent every cent he had and had to go to work in Cairo.

"Through a friend who corresponded with some one near Dorena, Mo., across the river from here, he learned that there was a young girl on a shanty boat at the head of Island No. 6."

He started to Hickman Sunday, but had no money when he got to Union City and had to pawn his coat to get here. Learning that she was on a boat between here and Cairo, Ill., he returned and procured a gasoline launch, and with friends started down the river, searching every house boat.

"They passed the boat his daughter was on and landed here. He made known his search, but no one knew Will Fleming, and he had given up the search and started back to Cairo. Will Fleming had three fingers and half of the thumb of one hand off, and although Mr. Ray did not know him, he expected to find him by this clue.

"Soon after the boat left a suspicious looking man was seen to come out from the depot and start up the railroad track, watching the boat as it went up the river. His attitude created suspicion, and it further discovered that he had three fingers and thumb off one hand. He was followed and overtaken and arrested by Deputy Marshal Ballard on suspicion."

"He was frightened and weakened and made a full confession, stating that he had the girl on a boat above town. The fastest launch here was secured and hastened after Mr. Ray's launch. They were overtaken and went to the boat where he found his daughter."

"She was brought to Hickman, where she identified Will Fleming, and told her pitiful story. Her hair was short, falling to her shoulders, her face burned to a brown, and with streaming eyes she made a pitiful picture. She said she had not been on land for weeks, and through fear of Fleming was afraid to write home."

"Fleming was placed in jail here and will be carried back to Decatur as soon as requisition papers can be procured. A collection was taken up and given to Mr. Ray, who started back to Cairo. A large crowd was on the bank to see them off."

"Fleming was a married man, had a wife and two children in Decatur. He had been living at the head of the island for the past five weeks and working on J. H. Pickett's farm."

Sometimes True.

On leaving his study, which is in the rear of the church, the pastor of a church in Brooklyn saw a little boy, a friend of his, talking to a stranger.

"What was he saying to you, Dick?" asked the divine, as he came up to the youngster.

"He just wanted to know whether Doctor Blank was the preacher of this church."

"And what did you tell him?"

"I told him," responded the lad, with dignity, "that you were the present incumbent."—June Lippincott's.

Light From Windmills.

On the Danish island of Sjælland there is an electric lighting system which is driven by a windmill. The wheel is forty-six feet in diameter, and is supported by a tower forty-three feet high. The area of the blades exposed to the wind is 340 square feet, and with a wind blowing at the rate of twenty-three feet a second the mill will 8.5 horsepower. The speed is then twenty-four revolutions to a minute. Current is supplied to 378 incandescent and six arc lamps, besides several small motors.

Our Dutch Friends.

At the meeting of the S. P. C. A. some extracts from school children's essays were read. "Feed your horse with horse-radish and horse-chestnuts if you want your horse to grow," said one child. Another wrote: "If you are very kind indeed to your dog it may even follow you to your grave." A little girl wrote: "The Eskimoes are very fond indeed of their reindeer in fact, they love their reindeer sometimes more than their wives. But, then, they are very useful to them."—London Daily Mail.

Half of the Pleasure.

The youngest girl of a Baltimore family was recently much distressed, at dessert to discover that there was ice-cream for dinner.

"Oh, papa!" exclaimed the youngster reproachfully, "why didn't they tell me this morning that we were going to have ice-cream?"

"What difference would that have made?"

"Lots!" sighed the child. "I could have expected it all day!"—June Lippincott's.

New York City's Wealth.

Comptroller Metz is counting up the city's wealth in real estate and has begun with the fire department, as he found that that department had no record whatever of its real estate holdings. Mr. Metz declares that the aggregate value of the city's property places it probably at the head of the list of real estate ownership of the world's great nations. He estimates this value at nearly $2,000,000,000.—New York Times.

Missouri Will.

A number of representatives were facetiously discussing the resources of the State of Missouri one afternoon, when McCall of Massachusetts observed to Mr. Lloyd of the first named State:

"Lloyd, I am told that Missouri leads at the head in raising mules." "It seems to me," retorted Lloyd, "that is the only safe place to stand in the circumstances."—June Lippincott's.

The Ignorance of Youth.

She—You said that I was necessary to your happiness.

He—I was young, then, and very ignorant. I had not a conception of relative values.

She—What do you mean?

He—I mean that I didn't know a necessity from an affliction.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Is This Fair?

If there be any truth

In an oft-quoted saw,

Opportunity knocks

Once at every man's door.

But woman is favored—

At her door, it appears,

Opportunity knocks

Once in every four years!

—Robert T. Hardy in June Lippincott's.

Whitewashing the Opium Traffic.

There came a time, not so long ago, when a wave of "anti-opium" feeling swept over England, and the British public suddenly became very hard to please. Parliament agreed that the idea of a government opium monopoly in India was "morally indefensible," even went so far as to send out a "Royal Commission" to investigate the whole question. Now this commission, after traveling twenty thousand miles, asking twenty-eight thousand questions, and publishing two thousand pages (double columns, close print) of evidence, arrived at some remarkable conclusions. "Opium," says the Royal Commission, "is harmful, harmless, or even beneficial, according to the measure and discretion with which it is used. . . . It is (in India) the universal household remedy. . . . It is extensively administered to infants, and the practice does not appear to any extent injurious. . . . It does not appear responsible for any disease peculiar to itself." As to the traffic with China, the commission states—"the Responsibility mainly lies with the Chinese Government." And, finally (which seems to bring out the pith of the matter), "In the present circumstances the revenue derived from opium is indispensable for carrying on with efficiency the government of India."—Samuel Merwin, in Success Magazine.

The New Age.

When navies are forgotten

And fleets are useless things,

When the dove shall warm her bosom

Beneath the eagle's wings,

When memory of battles,

At last is strange and old,

When nations have one banner,

And creeds have found one fold

When the hand that sprinkles midnight

With its powdered drift of suns

Has hushed this tiny tumult

Of sects and swords and guns,

Then hark! the last note of discord

In all God's world shall cease,

In the conquest which is service,

In the victory which is peace!

—Frederick Lawrence Knowles.

Autumnal Troubles.

Though a roll of college parchment

Is a thing to be desired,

And a graduate is happy

O'er the knowledge he's acquired;

Yet the gulf in earning power

He observes with some alarm

'Twixt the brain he brought from college

And a baseball expert's arm.

—Nellie Parker Jones in June Lippincott's.

"I think," said the merchant, "I have to fire your friend Polk. I never saw any one quite so lazy."

"Slow in everything, is he?"

"No, not everything. He gets tired quick enough."—Philadelphia Press.

If there is anything in connection with this bonus vote offer or any other contest matter, be sure to call up The Sun office and get yourself well-informed. After supper, say about 8 o'clock, is a good time to call up for the contest man is always in at that time.

About the Limit.
As the rules of the contest say, there is a limit on now in regard to certificate voting. Only 2,000 certificate votes may be cast in a single day. That only applies to this week. Next week the limit will be raised to 5,000 daily. Any number of coupon votes may be cast in addition to the 2,000 certificate votes.

Several persons voted certificates calling for 2,250 or more yesterday and will probably be disappointed when they do not appear in the count in today's paper. These certificates are not lost, though they may not be counted till after the limit is raised. The contest man is carefully keeping them for the raised limit next week and will cast them for you at that time—if you turned them in.

Big Bonus Offer.
Ten thousand bonus votes will be given in each district to the candidate who turns in the largest amount of cash on subscriptions Saturday, May 30.

Five thousand bonus votes will be given in each district to the candidate who turns in the largest of separate subscriptions Saturday, May 30. One thousand bonus votes will be given in each district to the candidate who polls the largest coupon vote Saturday, May 30.

The above offer of bonus votes, over and above the regular scale, is one which no live candidate in The Sun's Great Popularity Contest can afford to overlook. Winning one or more of the above designated bonus offers may be the means of putting you so far in the lead that you will be there at the fateful finish, July 1. Perhaps the offer needs a little explanation: Altogether 48,000 extra votes will be given to the people who show the greatest activity on Saturday. Sixteen thousand will go to the persistent ones in each district who turn in the largest amount of cash on subscriptions during the day, Saturday, May 30, will be given to the voters in addition to those he or she receives regularly on the subscriptions. Perhaps some one else will have turned in a larger number of separate subscriptions than the one receiving the 16,000 bonus for the largest amount of cash, a prize of 5,000 for those who turn in the largest number of separate subscriptions in each district.

Moreover, recognizing the popularity of the free ballot published daily in The Sun it has been decided to offer in each district a prize of 1,000 bonus votes to the candidates who poll the largest coupon vote during the day Saturday.

Please understand that these bonus offers are in addition to the regular scale allowed on subscriptions. People living out of the city of Paducah and entered in the third district will have till Monday night to get their results in by mail.

No announcement will be made of the winners of this offer, for it is not the intention of the management of this contest to expose who is doing the best in the contest other than by the votes which the candidates choose to have published opposite their names from day to day.

If the winner happens to be yourself, then you will know the one that won, or if the winner happens to be a friend of yours and tells you that he received a certificate for 10,000 bonus votes, you will know one of the winners. In any other case you will be in ignorance of the winners.

To Now Entries.
If you have been considering the advisability of entering the contest and have finally decided that the $2,000 in prizes looks good to you, now is the time to get very actively engaged in the work of getting subscription votes. If some one has a couple of days start of you the chances are that they have picked over their best prospects and will not stand as good a show of winning Saturday as you will, for you have the cream of your business yet to secure.

Voting Limit.
Until May 29 no candidate will be allowed to cast more than 2,000 certificate votes in any one day.

The Paducah Sun's Great Popularity Contest began with the official announcement on May 23 and will close on the great national holiday, July 4. That makes exactly six weeks. There will be no extension of the time of the contest. When it's over it's over, and the happy, lucky ones will be hugging home deeds for real estate, orders for fine furniture, rare jewels and a bunch of other things.

Who Are Eligible?
Any white person, man or woman, of good character, residing in the territory covered by The Sun may become a candidate for the honors and the prizes in The Paducah Sun's Greatest Popularity Contest.

Duration—Awards.
The contest starts with today's announcement and will continue till July 1, at 9 p. m., at which time a committee of well-known and trustworthy citizens will be chosen to determine who are entitled to the prizes.

More Than $2,000 in Prizes.
Following is a description of the magnificent list of prizes offered for the winners in this contest together with the arrangement governing their distribution.

The candidate securing the highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The First Grand Prize, a $700 double building lot in Gregory Heights, Paducah's prettiest suburb.

The candidate securing the second highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The Second Grand Prize, a $400.00 two-carat, blue-white diamond, on display at Jo Wolff's jewelry store, 327 Broadway.

After the judges of the finish of the contest have awarded the Grand Prizes, the names of the two winners will be stricken from the list of contestants and the nine district prizes will be awarded as follows:

The three persons who lead their respective districts will be awarded a $300 piano, on display at W. T. Miller & Bros., 520 Broadway, a $150 suit of furniture, displayed at Garner Bros., 247-213 South Third, a $100 buggy and harness, displayed at Powell-Rogers, 129-131 North Third. The above three prizes will be given to the three district leaders in the order of the number of votes credited to them.

The three persons who receive the second highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes in their order of rank—a $45 watch on display at Pollock's, 323 Broadway, a $50 lady's or man's watch at Nagel and Meyer's, corner Third and Broadway, a $50 Miller range, displayed at Hank Bros., 212 Broadway.

Districts.
The territory covered by The Sun has been divided for the purposes of this contest into three districts, as follows:

District 1 comprises all of the city of Paducah north of Broadway, including the north side of Broadway.

District 2 comprises all of the city of Paducah south of Broadway, including the south side of Broadway.

District 3 comprises all of the territory served by The Sun outside the limits of the city of Paducah.

The three persons receiving the third highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes, a $37.50 refrigerator, displayed at Honneberger's, 422 Broadway, a $25 chair or other furniture from Rhodes-Burford's, 112-116 North Fourth, a $25 lady's or man's watch on display at J. L. Wanner's, 311 Broadway. In addition the management of The Sun will spend $100 in special prizes to be distributed to busy candidates during the progress of the contest, making a grand total of more than $2,000 in prizes, to be distributed gratis.

Table of Values.
Besides the coupons which are printed daily in The Sun and which are good for the number of votes printed on them if voted before the time limit stated, contestants may secure subscription votes according to the following schedule:

Contestants may secure subscriptions anywhere they wish. For instance a candidate in District 3 is entitled to turn in subscriptions from District 2 or District 1, and vice versa.

New subscribers are those who were not taking The Sun May 23, the date of the start of the contest. Transfer from one member of a family to another or to someone else living in the same house will not be counted as a new subscription.

Address all communications to The Sun, Contest Department.

June 1, 1902, SIX YEARS IN PADUCAH June 1, 1908

On June 1st, six years ago, I began business in Paducah. Six years of hard work; six years of honest effort to give my customers honest values; six years I have held to the belief that my methods would bring good results. I believe that a man or a firm gets trade if they know how to go after it, and I would rather have your patronage today than your promise tomorrow. I have not yet lost faith in my business ideas. I firmly believe that my business will grow and increase just so long as honest goods, low prices and prompt and courteous treatment make an appeal to the buying public.

We celebrate June 1st with an anniversary sale. Come and see us and take advantage of some of our Special Offerings. We have music Monday, afternoon and evening. Our electric fans and air pipes make our store the coolest in Paducah. Our Soda Fountain is dispensing the most refreshing drinks.

Watch the daily papers for notices of our Special Bargains. Understand, we surely want your trade, or part of it at least, during the next six years. Will you not give us a trial and see if we deserve it?

THE CAMEL IN AMERICA

Imported in 1856 for Military Work. Samples Have Been Forgotten.

More than one interesting attempt to induce Old World beasts of burden to help solve America's problems of agriculture and transportation have been tried. One of the most interesting of these was the introduction of camels by the War Department in 1856, to be used for military and postal work in the desert countries of the Southwest. Jefferson Davis, then Secretary of War, was the prime mover in the novel scheme. Through his efforts an appropriation of $30,000 for the purpose was secured from Congress on March 3, 1855, and in May Major Henry C. Wayne of the army and Lieutenant D. D. Porter of the navy were sent to buy the animals.

Two voyages were made for camels. On the first thirty-four were brought over. Arab attendants being on board, and a careful arrangement of swinging harness prevented accidents to the animals while on the transport. They were landed in Texas after a three months' journey. The next year the second consignment brought the number of camels to seventy-five. A ranch near San Antonio, Texas, was secured, and men from the army went conscientiously about studying the camels and preparing them for work on the deserts of California, Nevada and Arizona. The trips were taken, and careful records were kept of speed, weight and forage. Wool from the hump of one camel was spun and knit into a pair of socks for President Pierce by a lady of Victoria, Texas—the only garment ever made from American-grown camel's hair. Up to 1857 the camel herd seems to have done well. A change of administration lost Secretary Davis his portfolio, and no one else seemed to care a whit whether the problem of transportation in the Western deserts was solved or not. All that is known is that the camels were turned loose to shift for themselves in the new country.

What became of them? History here leaves the matter greatly to speculation. They wandered toward the desert lands of the west, and it is claimed that there are still several running wild in the unsettled regions of Arizona. Ask the Indians and they will tell you of the "red ghost" that has more than once invaded their camps at night, stampeding the horses, eating the forage, and fighting like a fiend if attacked. Ask the cowboys and they will repeat the story of one of their number who was found dying in a canyon and who reviled only long enough to tell of a great, misshapen red beast that had turned upon him in the narrow defile, biting and trampling him when he had wounded it. Ask the Mexicans of the border and they will cross themselves and look quickly from side to side as they whisper mysteriously of "la phantasma," a great shape that lives in the neighborhood of the Upper Salt and Gila rivers, and falls upon them as an avenging angel. It was on the back of such a "fiend" that Indians years before had bound a captive peon, leaving him there until his bones had dropped to the desert one by one, and the great creature had been crazed by its horrible burden. Whether one, or more than one, or none at all, of the War Department's camels and their descendants are left, no one can say.—Washington Herald.

OLD HICKORY

Makes Ideal Furniture for Porch or Lawn

Made of the strongest of our native woods in cozy, comfortable Chairs, Rockers and Settees. Make your porch a comfortable living room for the warm weather. Old Hickory prices range from $1.50 to $6.50 per piece.

The porch, from being a mere entrance to to the house and a receptacle for worn-out furniture, has become an indispensable part of the ideal home. For at least four months out of the year the porch is the living room of the home and its artistic decoration is a matter of much importance. Many people prefer the more conventional form of the furniture illustrated here, and we certainly have a splendid line of it. It is made of solid oak, substantially bolted together and comes in weathered, natural or Early English finish.

$3 to $4.50 a Piece

For that shady spot on the lawn, one of our handsome Gliding Settees would be great. They are the acme of comfort and an ornament to any lawn. Moderate in price, too, considering that they last a lifetime. $12.50

An Old Hickory Porch Swing would be a splendid addition to your porch furniture. They are broad and roomy and have a delightfully rustic appearance. They are suspended by strong chains and are safe; $5.50 price complete.

HOW TO CURE SKIN DISEASES.

Eczema, pimples, dandruff and itching skin diseases are of local origin and are caused by germs. In order to cure these diseases the germs and their poisons must be driven to the surface of the skin and destroyed. Salves and greasy lotions may give temporary relief, but they do not destroy the germs that cause the disease. A St. Louis chemist has discovered a clean vegetable liquid remedy that will draw the germs and their poisons to the surface of the skin and destroy them, leaving a nice, clear, healthy skin. This remedy is known as Zemo, and by its many remarkable cures has attracted the attention of the leading scientists and skin specialists of this country and Europe.

Zemo has been given the most cordial reception by the public of any similar remedy ever produced, and it is recognized as an honest medicine that makes honest cures.

Zemo is for sale everywhere. You can obtain a trial package free by writing to the E. W. ROSE MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Missouri.

Mr. W. J. Gilbert has secured the agency for Zemo in Paducah and will gladly show you proof of some of the wonderful cures made by this remarkable remedy.

Beautiful Hair Makes a Beauty.

The Russian ladies are noted for their beauty, and a great deal of this is due to the fact that they have hair that is shining and lovely. Hair should gleam if it is going to be becoming; and no matter whether light or dark there should be a certain sheen about it to be attractive.

The French ladies wash the hair thoroughly once in three or four weeks, afterward drying it in the air. They shampoo it until all the oil is out, then they fan it; and, if the weather will permit, they let it blow in the air until it is light and lovely.

The French ladies add something to this by putting on a perfumed cap until the hair smells sweet, after which they let their hair blow dry. Drying the hair is more important than washing it. Hair that is dried will not need to be washed very often. And there is a dry shampoo which is delightful. The hair is scattered with cornmeal, which is particle of oil in it. This makes the hair light and fluffy and keeps it from getting dirty and ugly.

The ventilating of the hair is important, as far as the scalp is concerned, for it keeps the roots of the hair healthy even the shaking out of the hair at night will do it a world of good. But, if possible, the hair should be let down and the breeze allowed to play through it for an hour a day.

Hair that falls easily can be strengthened by ventilation; and hair that is growing ray should be treated to a tonic and ventilated. The shake her hair out every day in order to let the roots breathe.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Catch Trout in Orchards.

Game Warden Thomas Mullen, of Yakima county, has called the sportsmen of this district together to devise some way of protecting the fish which are now being slaughtered in thousands by being dumped on the orchards and alfalfa fields from the irrigation ditches.

The trout and salmon enter the ditches and then turn off into the alfalfa, finally ending the life in the grass where the water has played out and left them. Attorney Edward Parker, a few days ago caught a six-pound rainbow trout in his pear orchard. Clinton Shannon found several trout in his orchard and numerous others have reported similar finds.

Small boys catch long strings of small trout by scooping them from the ponds with their hands. Game Warden Mullen says that in some sections of the Valley the ranchers who put fish, angle for them in the Queen Alexander Lives a Pitiful Embittered Life in Her Old Age.

London, May 27.—The leopard does not change its spots nor King Edward the ways of his youth. As the Prince of Wales he was the greatest lion in Europe; as King of England the old paths appeal most to him.

In his declining years his neglect of Queen Alexandra is but an emphasis of his earlier career, when his utter lack of consideration spoiled her life and drew the gossip of all Europe.

The King goes traveling on the Continent several times a year—and nearly always without the queen. He is always the center of a brilliant group of the sort he most cultivates. The lure of pleasure is as strong as ever; his sense of propriety just as blunted. The Queen enters little into his thoughts; less into his life. Were he not but Edward VII, the world would dub him a brutal, selfish pig.

Here in London the Queen lives her pitiful, embittered life. Discouraged, growing older and more irritable every day; she has ended her career as the young old lady of Europe. She is rapidly becoming the terror of her husband's palace because of her sharp tongue.

With the aid of cosmetics and a wig King Edward's 65-year-old countenance has fought Father Time successfully for years. Now these weapons are no longer able to conceal from her subjects that Alexandra has stepped over the borderland and is at last an old woman.

Since Edward mounted the throne Alexandra has been leading a secluded life. He sees as little of her as possible. He travels about England and the Continent, leaving her alone at home, to while away, as best she can, the tedium of being a Queen with nothing to do and with no home companionship.

She kills time by opening charity bazaars, visiting hospitals and going to the theatre. She is an inveterate play-goer, and sometime a attends three or four performances a week.

Usually she is accompanied by one of her two only intimates, her daughter, Princess Victoria, and her sister, the Dowager Empress of Russia. The three are close chums and are inseparable. There is a common bond among them, for the Dowager Empress and Alexandra have not led happy married lives, and the Princess Victoria is 40 years old and has not caught a husband.

When with her daughter or sister Alexandra has no difficulty in overcoming her deafness. They carry an American instrument for transmitting sound that is easily concealed, and acts when two persons are in contact. Alexandra, by picking arms with Princess Victoria or the Dowager Empress, can hear distinctly. With other people she cannot link arms, and she consequently feels her inferiority keenly. At home a wire arranged around a table supplies the necessary contact for conversation. The Queen, with one of the instruments in her dress and her hand on the table wire, can hear anybody talking who has also an instrument and connects with the wire.

Queen Alexandra's real home is not in England, but in Norway, where her other daughter, Maud, is queen. Whenever she can Alexandra goes to Christiania and joins the Dowager Empress at a small house the two jointly own at Hgdo, just outside Christiania, beautifully situated on the Christiania fjord. There, the royal sisters forget their troubles, and lead the life of two girls on a summer holiday. They go for long walks, unaccompanied; they play billiards; they study their collections of land paint. Alexandra, particularly, is a fair artist, and her water color work ranks high among amateurs. Alexandra likes to photograph, and at Hgdo she has a huge collection of her press-the-button work.

Alexandra is very popular among the English—due, not only to her constant visits to charitable works, but to the keen sympathy felt for her because of her domestic unhappiness.

England knows the trials Alexandra has had to suffer since her marriage to the first ruler of Europe, and England overlooks the irritable temper the Queen has developed in consequence.

Europe.

Europe is a place where all good Americans go to. It came into prominence shortly after the Civil War.

The open palm first rose in Europe and was imported into this country by Sir Walter Raleigh. Hence Palm Beach and palm rooms.

Europe raises for our use counts, princes and dukes, ruins and old masters. It also furnishes new styles and diseases. From it we receive the most lasting forms of drunkenness.

Europe is used for honeymoon purposes, and for those who are used to American hotels it is a form of penance.

Its importance as a topic of conversation can hardly be over-estimated. "It makes more talk than any other product."

Europe is also useful as a means of getting acquainted with your next-door neighbor. While traveling with him on the other side there is usually time between stations to ascertain his name and business.

As a place of refuge for our principal millionaires, it is becoming more and more useful every year, and more affectionately regarded by all patriotic Americans.—Thomas L. Masson in Success Magazine.

THE TRUTH ABOUT KIDNEY TROUBLE.

(Albumen and Casts.)
People have been led to believe that the strings and flecks in urinary sediment mean disintegrating kidney tissue (otherwise known as casts), and are have been frightened into the belief that this meant death.

As a matter of fact casts can not be seen with the naked eye, only through a high-power microscope; and even when found they are no longer evidence of absolutely incurable cases.

In those cases in which the degeneration has not proceeded so far but what if healed the kidney can still perform its functions the albumen and casts respond as definitely to the reduction of the inflammation by Fulton's Renal Compound as the other symptoms, and the microscope will show the casts to be less in number week by week until the inflammation and albumen have completely subsided.

If asked what percentage of kidney cases that show casts have enough of the kidneys left for the patient to recover, we would say that the percentage of cases beyond recovery are small.

One of the reasons for this belief is that there are very few records in the text books of cases in which the autopsies disclosed the nearly complete dispersion of the kidney. Such are rare. Then again Fulton's Renal Compound gets such a high percentage of recoveries in cases that show casts and albumen that this also sustains the above conclusion.

The high efficiency of 87 per cent heretofore established by this Compound was in a line of cases all of which, so far as we knew, were considered chronic and incurable.

As Things Are.
It was evening in the great west. The golden sun had gone down over the cornfields, and all was silent.
"Maria, what did you do with that Rubens that came today?"
"Hung it up in the art gallery, next to the Rembrandt."
"That's right. How about the new balloon we ordered?"

"We got a wireless today from the factory, saying it wouldn't be ready until next week."

"Fine. That will give one of them chauffeurs of ours an excuse to be idle. Couldn't get any of them chaps to help with the hay. How is the new French car acting?"

"Fine. But I had to telephone for a new set of tires."

"Did that consignment of government bonds come?"

"Yes."

"And how about that first folio edition of Shakespeare?"

"That's here."

And then the Kansas farmer, removing his evening clothes and putting on his overalls, went out on the estate and locked up for the night. Thomas L. Masson in Success Magazine.

PAPERS YELLOW WITH OLD AGE

In Possession of Resident of Pine Bluff Ark.

Death of Washington Commented Upon in Article Printed in 1800 —Paper Dated 1704.

ADDRESS OF QUEEN ANNE.

Pine Bluff, Ark., May 28.—E. E. Bell, secretary and manager of the Pine Bluff Telephone company, has in his possession several old newspapers and documents which have been handed down by members of his family for several generations, and are now of great interest on account of their great age. One of these is a copy of the first edition of the Boston News-Letter, published Monday, April 17, 1704. Another is a copy of the Elster county Gazette, published in 1800, and another is a parchment record signed by Gov. James K. Polk, bearing the date Dec. 1, 1848, dealing 120 acres of land in Wisconsin to Michael Caya.

The copy of the Boston News-Letter, which is yellow with age, contains a publisher's notice to the effect that any person having goods or wares to let or sell may advertise the same at a reasonable rate, "from twelve pence to five shillings, and not to exceed, who may agree with John Campbell, publisher at Boston." The paper is printed by B. Green and sold by Nicholas Boone, "at his shop near the old meeting house."

Address By Queen Anne.

The paper contains an address by Queen Anne to the house of peers in England, under the date of Dec. 16, 1702, calling attention to the designing work of French emissaries in Scotland. It also contains a letter from Scotland telling of the efforts of the pretender, James VIII., to wrest Scotland from her majesty's rule. Accounts of privateering at sea are also given, with notices that certain vessels, one of sixty tons, will sail within thirty days, and if not accompanied by a fleet will make a run for it to avoid privateers.

President Adams' Speech.

The Elster county Gazette (January, 1800) contains a special message to congress by President John Adams. The larger part of the paper is taken up with accounts of the funeral of President George Washington, who died December 14, 1799. The editor's tribute to him concludes as follows:

"The sun was now setting. Alas! the son of glory was set forever. No, the name of George Washington, the American president and general, will triumph over death. The unclouded brightness of his glory will illumine the future ages."

The paper contains a large number of legal advertisements, and the "lost strayed or stolen" classified column is well patronized. The Gazette office also prints a familiar notice for "clean rags." Several merchants advertise their wares, offering to take in exchange country produce, grain and ashes, with the statement that "cash will not be refused."

The editorial writer and the feature story writer had evidently not made his appearance in journalistic fields at this early date.

Use of Waste Products in Economy of Nation—Paper Made From Stalks.

Washington, May 28.—When Dr. Wiley, of Poison Squad fame, recently sprang again into the limelight, by declaring that alcohol could be manufactured from potatoes, and when the forest service followed it up by announcing that waste sawdust was full of potential booze, there was joy among the thirsty.

Now there is a scheme being hatched for the cigarette smoker. Imagine the smoker of the future pulling out his sack of tobacco, and calmly tearing off a corner of his newspaper in which to roll the weed. Imagine newspapers printed on real rice paper!

Also newspapers printed on real wheat straw paper. And on corn husk paper. The cigarette of the future may have his choice of the three. That is, if the paper-making experiments which the department of agriculture is now conducting, pan out. The bureau of plant industry was given an appropriation of $10,000 by congress this year to continue investigations into fibrous plants which promise results in paper-making. The object being to find a substitute for the present wood-pulp news print paper, whose continued manufacture threatens the extinction of the forests.

Utilizing Waste.

Already Dr. Galloway and his experts have succeeded in making first-class paper out of the stalks of rice grown in Louisiana and Texas—utilizing a product that is now considered absolutely useless and thrown away. Splendid news print paper, it is said, can also be manufactured out of corn stalks—the source of Dr. Wiley's alcohol, and a favorite staple in the manufacture of "pure maple syrup" before the pure food law was enacted. Likewise the claim is made that the waste stalks of cotton yields excellent paper. In fact any of the common fibrous plants can readily be converted into news paper, according to these government experts.

The only difficulty comes in collecting a sufficient quantity of any one of these materials to make its manufacture worth while. Thousands of tons of corn stalks rot on the fields of western farmers every year, but the department of agriculture foresees trouble in having it collected in any one center. Similarly with rice, cotton and wheat.

There is also a rank weed—a sort of swamp bamboo which reaches a height of eight or ten feet—that makes paper. In fact it surpasses for this purpose any other plant which the government experts have yet discovered. Within a radius of two miles of Washington, Dr. Galloway estimates that there are 100,000 acres of this plant, and if its manufacture into paper should be undertaken, he figures that the swampy waste land upon which it grows would be worth about $20 an acre. And it is just as widely distributed all over the country.

Agricultural Explorer David G. Fairchild, of the department, has been searching the world over for new plants which promise well in paper making, and which are perhaps adapted to American climate. No official announcement of the department's tests will be issued until an exhaustive series of experiments shall have been concluded.

The preacher chanced to be within, And to'd the stranger briefly About the sacred edifice, Its ancient glories chiefly. The tablets on the wall were shown, And there were quite a number; The preacher said: "Within these walls Now many persons slumber." The stranger looked with some surprise Upon the gospel teacher, And said, "Well if so many sleep Why don't they change the preacher?" —Yonkers Statesman.

I recommend it for pains in the chest." J. H. Oehlschlaeger, Lang Bros., C. O. Ripley.

Best Healer in the World.

Rev. F. Starbird, of East Raymond, Maine, says: "I have used Bucklen's Arnica Salve for several years, on my old army wound, and other obstinate sores, and find it the best healer in the world. I use it too with great success in my veterinary business." Price 25c, at all drug stores.

POTTERY IS EASILY MADE

When one thinks of the numerous possibilities for adding beautiful decorative pieces of pottery to the home in the way of lamp bowls, candlesticks, dishes for flowers or fruit and all kinds of decorative jardiniere, it seems well worth while to learn how to make these at home.

Now that plastic composite clay or plasterine can be obtained already prepared, requiring only the addition of water, the making of pottery comes within the scope of the most enlightened worker. These compositions can be obtained in cream color, terra cotta or in olive green. A few simple potters' tools—a board, rolling pin and water—are the only requisites. The material is moistened with water and is kneaded on a board to give it plasticity. It is then rolled with a rolling pin.

In order to make a small bowl, take a lump of clay and work the knuckles into it until it assumes the form of a bird's nest. This will save a good deal of shaping when building up the sides. Do not attempt to add too large a piece at first or it will break off, especially if the sides are high. Work the small bits of clay very carefully into the sides.

When the pottery made from plastic is perfectly dry it is sent to a kiln to fire. If the green, white or terra cotta are not just the colors desired, the vessels can be with ordinary tube oil colors moistened with turpentine and a wax finish given to them afterwards. This is really a very practical and easy method of getting what is known as a mat glaze.—Delineator.

HORRIBLE CULT AGAIN ACTIVE

Boys and Girls Taught Marriage Abolished.

Love Considered Affliction Needing Medical Attention—Sue Worshippers Appear Again.

FEARS EXPOSING BODIES

New York, May 27.—President Anthony Comstock of the Anti-Vice Society was notified that the notorious "Mazdaznan philosophers," or sun worshippers, whose leader, "Rev. Dr." Ottoman Zar-Adus-Hanish, was driven out of town by the police three years ago, have resumed operations.

An investigation of the daring secret rites of the cult was asked for, and Mr. Comstock was furnished with a copy of the Mazdaznan ritual "inner studies," which Hanish has been circulating through the mails. It is said, upon receipt of $5 a copy.

The book, which for the first time has fallen into the hands of an outsider, will form the basis of the Anti-Vice Society's action. If its president decides to move against the fanatics, he declared after an examination of the document that it should not be permitted to have general circulation and should be barred from the mails.

Otto Schmidt, Secretary.
It has been discovered within the last few days that the sun worshippers, numerically and financially, are stronger than they were when the entrance of a police captain and a detective into one of their seances two years ago caused Hanish (whose real name is said to be Hennessy) to change his residence from New York to Chicago.

The present headquarters of the cult is in General Hall, No. 228 West Fifty-eighth street. While Ottoman Zar-Adus-Hanish is still the leader, he is dividing his time between this city and the Western metropolis. He has acquired an enthusiastic assistant in the person of High Priest Otto Schmidt, who in daytime is a bookkeeper.

Three hundred members are now following the daring, outlandish practices of the Mazdaznites. A score of well-known and wealthy women have been converted since the partial breaking up of the order in 1905. Boys and girls 18 and 19 years old have been accepted as members. Mr. Comstock has learned, and have initiated into the secret rites of the organization.

Should Abolish Marriage.
Eating of victims is the least objectionable of their practices. Exposure of their bodies to the sun in the most daring fashion is another rite. Among their beliefs are these:

Marriage should be discouraged, if not abolished. Modern conventions governing the relations of the sexes should be cast aside. Doctors should treat young persons—"as for a disease"—who are afflicted with the popular ailment known as "love."

In the frank manner Mr. Comstock was told the boys and girls were permitted in the "inner circle" of the sun worshippers to hear and join in discussion of those subjects. Their presence and participation is justified by the maxim:

"To the pure mind all is pure."

The Fees Demanded.
Here is a list of the payments Mazdaznites must make before the goodness of Hanish's heart starts them toward universal knowledge:

Contribution, $2; monthly magazine, $1; preliminary books, $5; inner studies, $5; lessons, $12; medical equipment, $4; total, $29.

Then there are Mazdaznan fruit choppers, ($1.75), nut and grain mills ($1), and other odds and ends having to do with the vegetarian end of the cult.

Some Wonders of New York City.
Over 25,000 people work at night. Coney Island is sometimes visited by 500,000 people a day.

There are 132 department stores, employing over 10,000 people. The population is now 4,800,000. London's population is 5,000,000 more but New York is growing seven times as fast as the British metropolis, and should become the largest city in the world inside of ten years. The population increases at the rate of five to one, compared with the increase of the rest of the country.

There are 112 theatres and two grand opera houses, seating about 110,000 people.

About 45,000 marriages are solemnized every year. One in every eleven minutes.

In 1865 New York had only twenty-eight millionaires now it has over 2,000.

Over 176,000,000 gallons of water are used every day in the greater city.

A child is born every four minutes, and a death occurs every seven minutes.

The city contains 8,000 lawyers, 5,000 actors, 3,000 actresses, 6,000 artists, 10,000 musicians, 15,000 stenographers, 6,300 salesmen and saleswomen, 1,900 farmers, 1,600 undertakers and 862 female barbers.

No. 1 Wall street is considered the highest priced property in the United States. Several years ago it sold for $700 a square foot and is assessed by the city at a little over $1 per square inch.

The transient hotel population is figured at 250,000 people a day. The hotel properties are valued at over $80,000,000.—Success Magazine.

Good for Everybody.

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect, in the Delbert Building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequalled. 50c. at all druggists.

He Had Broken Something.
Mrs. Wilson had a young Japanese servant who had a habit of trying to conceal from his mistress any breakage of dishes of which he chanced to be guilty. The good lady explained that it was wicked to deceive, and directed the Japanese to tell her whenever he broke anything. The boy promised to do as she advised. One day, while Mrs. Wilson was entertaining some friends in the parlor, the Japanese suddenly appeared in the doorway. His teeth were bared in a childlike smile and his eyes sparkled with the light of conscious virtue.

Too Much for "Uncle Joe."
By the side of a certain Illinois suburban railway stands a fertilizer factory which gives out a particularly offensive smell. A lady who frequently has occasion to travel on this line always carries with her a bottle of lavender smelling salts. One morning Speaker Cannon took the seat beside her. As the train neared the factory, the lady opened her bottle of salts. Soon the car was filled with the horrible odor of the fertilizer. The Speaker stood it as long as he could, then addressing himself to the lady, whom he saw holding the bottle to her nose, he said: "Madam, would you mind putting the cork in that bottle?"—Success Magazine.

Two tramps approached a railroad telegraph office not far from New York the other day and looked hungrily through the window, but there was not even a dinner pail in sight to induce them to ask for food. One of them finally tapped on the window, and the operator left his key long enough to inquire:

"Well, what can I do for you?"

"Just report two empties going east," replied the tramp, with a grin, and started down the track toward New York.—June Lippincott's.

Weak Heart Action

There are certain nerves that control the action of the heart. When they become weak, the heart action is impaired. Short breath, pain around heart, choking sensation, palpitation, fluttering, feeble or rapid pulse, and other distressing symptoms follow. Dr. Miles Heart Cure is a medicine especially adapted to the needs of these nerves and the muscular structure of the heart itself. It is a strengthening tonic that brings speedy relief.

PNEUMONIA SECRET FOUND

Fight on Consumption's Fatal Bid Is Progressing Rapidly.

The mystery, pneumonia, which has baffled the medical world so long, is, it was announced last night, being solved by the commission of eminent physicians from all parts of the country appointed by the health board in an effort to combat the disease which has become greater than that of its fatal rival, "the white plague."

Dr. Herman M. Biggs, who has led the fight against the spread of tuberculosis in this city, and at whose suggestion the pneumonia commission was appointed, told last night of the progress made.

To a reporter, Dr. Biggs said: "At the outset of our investigations some of us believed a great many things about pneumonia, and many of those beliefs have proven to be true by actual experiments in various cities, as well as in different country sections.

"It has been proved that pneumonia is infectious, that it is caused by a germ, the Pneumococcus, and that it attacks the normally strong as well as the weak with like fatality.

"The pneumococcus germ, which is a lancet-shaped creature, a germs, generally travel in pairs and is taken into the system through the nose and mouth. It remains, waiting its chance to descend into the lungs and begin its havoc. This chance comes when the physical condition of the person is depressed from an insignificant attack of influenza, measles, bad cold, catarrh, tonsillitis, or the like. Once in the lungs, it propagates with marvelous rapidity, and the lungs soon become congested. If the congestion is not relieved, death is sure.

"In many respects there is a great similarity between consumption and pneumonia, and the accepted treatment for the former in many instances proves beneficial to the latter. However, the tuberculosis germ works slowly on the lungs of its victim, while the pneumococcus germ works with amazing rapidity.

"Pneumonia has no terrors to the perfectly well man, but those who think themselves in the best of health sometimes are its readiest victims.

"The germ may be carried in the mouth of a perfectly well person for as long as six months, waiting for him to catch a cold or something of the kind. Instantly it makes the most of its opportunity."

They Prayed Running.

Harry and Ethel were crossing a field on their return from Sabbath-school, when they encountered a bull. At the animal's approach faster they ran, yet nearer and nearer came the bull.

"We must pray," gasped Harry. "You do it," Ethel pleaded. "We'll kneel down right here."

"No, we'll pray running. You ought to do it; you're a girl."

"O Lord—O Lord—I can't," sobbed Ethel. "You do it."

The proximity of the bull demanded immediate action, and Harry rose to the occasion. Loudly and fervently they prayed:

"O Lord, for what we are about to receive make us truly thankful."

If Happiness Be All Around,
If old Happiness is waiting,
All around as people say,
Do you wonder you can't find him?
Though you hunt him every day?
If old Happiness is waiting,
All around, behind, before,
Do you wonder that he never Seems to enter at your door?
Ah, I know a little secret,
He is hiding in the mud;
And the reason you can't see him
Is because your spirit's blind.
For the hand that wounds another
Draws a shade before the eye;
And the voice can never hail him
That is muffled in a lie.
And the heart that harbors malice
Is so very full, you see,
That old Happiness can't enter
If he tried his best, ah, me.
Yes, old Happiness is waiting
All around you, as they say;
But you'll never, never find him
"Less you meet him his own way.
Meet him fair, and square, and open,
Clean of body, soul and mind;
Ready hand, and willing spirit,
And old self left far behind.

Too Much "In a Hurry."

The race for risk in this country is only equalled by the race to make haste. It is an old proverb, but one peculiarly applicable to our present tendencies, to "make haste slowly." Yet this proverb appears to have believers in our trying and strenuous age. The papers are full of deaths by drowning of those who have ventured upon the ice, in haste to avail themselves of a winter outing. The daily chronicles are filled with accidents to life and limb by those who insist on trying to catch a trolley car flying past. Time flies, and everyone pursues it, regardless of what may happen. New Yorkers who a few years ago spent an hour reaching their homes from their offices rush frantically to catch a subway train which will take them the same distance in a quarter of the time, and are impatient if they miss it, though they know another will be available in two or three minutes; the fastest ocean steamers are the most crowded, though the voyage is too short for the rest and change which should be the accompaniments of sea travel; even our elevators must shoot us with rocket-like velocity to the tops of our skyscrapers. What these and the others manifold glistenings of modern life mean to our mental and physical health the neurologists can tell us, and their report is not assuring. It is, perhaps, too late to warn this generation against the view of hurrying, but perhaps a later one may develop a saner philosophy of travel.—Lester's Weekly.

A Summer Lullaby.

If the noise from the street is not too shrill we'll waver a bottle of spring tonic against last winter's chest protector that an old, familiar buzz can be heard rising and falling, starting and stopping, somewhere in the room. Rather pleasant sound, isn't it?—at least, as a mere piece of natural music. It makes a man think of fishing, a lurch in the woods, spring skies and other aesthetic delights. In another month, perhaps, it may arouse his soul to battle, because the musicians will promenade across across his cheek and hold endurance races around his neck or, forsooth, wheel in such swarms before his eyes that high thinking will be impossible. Even then, however, he would cherish no hard feelings against the little house flies if they would only keep their distance, which is six feet or more on the farther side of a window screen.

If we have guessed right, permit us to add, without disparagement, that those who think thus are suffering from a buccal imagination and ought to take something for it. The house fly's drone, however melodious and prophetic of watermelons, low shoes and ice bills, should not be listened to as a piece of music, from the artistic point of view. If anyone wishes to cure his imagination so that it will respond properly whenever the well-known buzz resounds in the house he should read a scientific report about the habits and tastes of the common house fly. If he digests the facts a few minutes before eating, the buccal imagination will atrophy in less time than it takes to read a sonnet.—New York Tribune.

Cracked Eggs are Sold in Soldiers' Cantons at a Reduced Price, and, as Tommy Atkins is not a man of means, there is a fairly good demand for these damaged articles.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, rapid liver with indigestion, dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fruit extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Philadelphia; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. J. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. J. C. Watson, M. D., Med. Lect., Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Parley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Path in Bennett Medical College, Chicago; and Prof. J. H. P. Pierce, M. D., N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authorities and many others endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are more constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

ANIMALS AMBIDEXTROUS.

Why Man Gives Preference to Right Hand Over the Left.

Right handedness and right eyedness came with genius homo. Dr. George M. Gould has watched for them in squirrels that use their front paws to hold nuts, cats that strike at insects in the air or play with wounded mice and in many other animals, but he is certain no preference is given to the right side over the left.

But in the lowest human savages all over the world choice in greater expertness of one hand is clearly present. One cause for its development is in primitive military customs. In all tribes and countries since man used implements of offense and defense the left side, where the heart lies, has been protected by the shield, while the right hand was called the spear hand.

Next to fighting came commerce. The fundamental condition of bartering was counting with the few numbers, one to ten. The fingers of the free or right hand were naturally first used, and all fingers to figure themselves, while the basis of our numberings is the decimal or ten fingered system. Every drill and action of the soldier from ancient Greece to modern America is right sided in every detail. Fling form the right shoulder and sighting with the right eye brings the right eye into prominence.

It is significant that with the decline of militarism comes the degeneration of schools for ambidexterity and the establishment of a movement for promulgating the gospel of two-handedness and its obvious advantages.—Chicago Tribune.

The Levy on Foodstuffs in Spain.

The "control" in Spain puzzles an American. Inspectors are posted at each avenue into the city, who carefully examine every bundle or basket or wagon load that enters. We were told by a Spanish Government official that in Seville the city government divides equally with the State whatever revenue it receives from the octroi. The city is supposed to maintain the octroi service, but it has been found more profitable to farm out the service to private parties and take a fixed sum annually. The city of Seville receives $1,026,000 per annum, $513,000 of which is turned over to the State; but it is claimed that the net amount collected by the lossers foodstuffs brought into the city amounts to at least $2,050,000 per annum. Among the staple foodstuffs and meats, while on spirits the charge is extremely high. Wine enters the cities free, but smaller towns demand a payment as a rule. Bread and flour and the grains from which flour is made are not charged for.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The Cruelty of Thoughtlessness.

Most of the cruelty of the world is thoughtless cruelty. Very few people would intentionally add to another's load or make his burden in life heavier or his path rougher. Most of the great heart-wounds are often inflicted by thoughtless thrusts, flung out too often in a moment of anger, when, perhaps, we were too proud to apologize or to try to heal the grievous wounds we had made.

Can anything be more cruel than to discourage a soul who is struggling to do the best he can, to throw stumbling blocks in the path of those who are trying to get on in the world against great odds?

No life is just the same after you have once touched it. Will you leave a ray of hope or one of despair, a flash of light or a southern cloud across some dark life each day? Will you by thoughtless cruelty deepen the shadow which hangs over the life, or will you by kindness dispel it altogether? No matter how you feel or what is disturbing your peace of mind, never allow yourself to send out a discouraging, a cruel or an unkind word or thought.—Success Magazine.

And Long Syne,
It slungest low in every heart,
We henz it each and all—
A song of those who answer not,
However we may call.
They throng the silence of the breast;

We see them as of yore—
The kind, the true, the brave, the sweet,
Who walk with us no more.
'Tis hard to take the burden up
When these have laid it down;
They brightened all the joy of life,
They softened every frown.

But, oh! 'tis good to think of them
When we are troubled sore;
Thanks be to God that "such have been,"
Although they are no more!
More homelike seems the vast unknown,
Since they have entered there;
To follow them were not so hard,
They can not be where God is not.

On any sea or shore;
Whatever betides, Thy love abides,
Our God forevermore!

It Takes Courage.

To speak the truth when, by a little prevention, you can get some great advantage.

To live according to your convictions.

To be what you are and not pretend to be what you are not.

To live honestly within your means, and not dishonestly upon the means of others.

When mortified and embarrassed by humiliating disaster, to seek in the week or ruin the elements of future conquest.

To try up a position with a good salary when it is the only business you know and you have a family depending upon you, because it does not have your unqualified approval.

To refuse to knuckle and bend the knee to the wealthy, even though poor.

To refuse to make a living in a questionable vocation.

To refuse to do a thing which you think is wrong, because it is customary and done in trade.

To be talked about and yet remain silent when a word would justify you in the eyes of others, but which you cannot speak without injury to another.

To face slander and lies, and to carry yourself with cheerfulness, grace and dignity for years before the lie can be corrected.

To stand firmly erect while others are howling and fawning for praise and power.

To remain in honest poverty while others grow rich by unquestionable methods.

Not to head the knee to popular prejudice.—Success Magazine.

The Lucky Quarter.

Food Wastes in Dyspeptic Stomachs

It seems useless to eat when the stomach can't digest the food. Yet you must eat. Why not then repair your digestion? It can be done. Many ways have been recommended to you, but here is one that is guaranteed. Go to your druggist and get a 50 cent or $1 bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great laxative compound. It will create for you what nature does not seem to provide—the gastric and peptic juices necessary to digestion. Your lack of them has caused your dyspepsia. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup

Pepsin contains properties that stir the functions of the stomach and liver to activity—that makes it do what it otherwise would not do. It arouses the secretions of the glands which are essential to digestion, and in that way cures indigestion or dyspepsia. Let no dyspeptic say he is incurable. He cannot honestly say so until he has tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. One bottle will be sufficient to prove its merits, and that one bottle will only cost you 50 cents or $1 at your druggist.

They Were Cured by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

I was afflicted seriously with stomach trouble, and had not been able to obtain any relief from the different remedies which I had tried, until I finally secured a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I purchased a large bottle, and after taking same according to directions, I noticed a great improvement. I then bought two more large bottles, and when they were gone, I had no more trouble.

I am in the best of health at this writing and have been ever since I took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a medicine I can recommend to anybody and have done so, and have been the means of your agents suffering lots of Syrup Pepsin in our town and neighborhood. It has done a great deal of good. So many have used it since I took it, people come to me for miles around and asked me what kind of medicine I took that did me so much good.

I have used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and was greatly benefited. Have had indigestion and stomach trouble for many years and found great relief after using it, and can cheerfully recommend it to the public.
